5th Annual "Wine in Winter"

Benefiting Families with Seriously Ill Children

tion that boasts over $30,000 worth of sports memorabilia, trips, vacation homes, jewelry, electronics, restaurant gift certificates, and other appealing gifts adds to the fun and excitement of this great event.

Proceeds from the evening support the needs of families with seriously ill, physically and cognitively challenged or severely injured children through the work of the Kelly Anne Dolan Memorial Fund. The fund, now in its 35th year of operation, has assisted close to 20,000 families in crisis. Carolyn Andersen, a volunteer for more than ten years and Wine in Winter's co-chair, feels that Wine in Winter is, "a fun way to help the Fund fulfill its mission. This event for me is a way to give back and have a blast doing it! Wine, delicious food, wonderfully exciting auction items in an elegant, cozy venue – it's a perfect way to spend an evening."

The event, which occupies both ballrooms at Normandy Farm, is a great way to relieve the winter blahs. But for Maple Glen's Lou Ann Kane, who shares the co-chair position with Andersen explains, "Wine in Winter presents the opportunity to share my knowledge and love of wine for the best reasons, to benefit the fund and all the families it helps while introducing our mission to a new audience." Through its various programs the Kelly Anne Dolan Memorial Fund expects to assist 1400 families or more this present fiscal year.

Reserve your place early as this popular event has sold-out three weeks in advance for the past two years.
